Georgia O'Keeffe: Visions of Hawai'i Offers Programming for All Ages

Celebrate Hawai'i Weekends, Aloha Nights, Live Music and Hula, Lei-Making Demonstrations, and More During Exhibition at NYBG May 19 through October 28, 2018

Bronx, NY—Visitors to The New York Botanical Garden's landmark exhibition, Georgia O'Keeffe: Visions of Hawai'i, will enjoy a rich offering of programming, including regularly scheduled live music and hula, tours, films, and more every Saturday and Sunday during the exhibition's run from May 19 through October 28, 2018. Celebrate Hawai'i Weekends allow visitors to experience aspects of Hawaiian culture, while Aloha Nights offer evening viewing of the exhibition. Special programs for all ages highlight the Opening and Closing Weekends.

In the Everett Children's Adventure Garden from May 19 through September 21, A Closer Look: Georgia O'Keeffe and Hawai'i encourages children to investigate botanical specimens and create art inspired by O'Keeffe's unique style of representing close-up views of flowers and fruit. Children can also play at the Hawaiian sand table and pot up a tropical ginger cutting to take home.

Georgia O'Keeffe and Hawai'i: A Sense of Place Symposium

Friday, May 18; 10:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.

Ross Hall

Moderated by curator Theresa Papanikolas, Ph.D., Deputy Director of Art and Programs and Curator of European and American Art at the Honolulu Museum of Art, this distinguished panel explores the importance of landscape as Georgia O'Keeffe's creative refuge, inspiration, and source of restorative power. The panelists are DeSoto Brown, Historian and Archivist, Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum, Honolulu; Samuel M. 'Ohukaniōhi'a Gon III, Ph.D., Senior Scientist and Cultural Advisor, Hawai'i Nature Conservancy; and Carolyn Kastner, Ph.D., Curator, Georgia O'Keeffe Museum, Santa Fe.

Weekend Music, Dance, & Film

Saturdays & Sundays, May 19–October 28

Every weekend you'll be whisked away to the Hawaiian Islands with performances, events, and activities that celebrate the diverse cultural traditions of Hawai'i. Enjoy hula, plein air painting, or see how a traditional lei is made. Explore Hawaiian culture through our Hawai'i Past and Present Film Series.

Programs include:

- Hula with Music; 12, 1, & 2 p.m.

For full schedule of performance groups, visit nybg.org.

- Artisan demonstrations; 1–4 p.m.

Activities include block printing, coconut ki'i puppet-making, lei-making, Hawaiian instrument crafting, poi-making, storytelling, and more.

For full schedule of artisans, visit nybg.org.

- Hawai'i Past & Present Film Series, Sundays (except June 3); 2 p.m.

A revolving series of classic and recent movies, environmental documentaries, award-winning shorts and Hawai'i as imagined by 1930's Hollywood.

Celebrate Hawai'i Weekends

May 19 & 20; July 28 & 29; August 18 & 19; October 27 & 28

On these select weekends, NYBG, in collaboration with Hawai'i Tourism United States, will feature performers, artists, and artisans from Hawai'i, showcasing the time-honored traditions and unique cultural heritage of the Islands.

- Opening Weekend, May 19 & 20

Welcome the exhibition with a celebration of traditional Hawaiian culture, including music, hula, and kapa- and lei-making demonstrations.

Festivities include:

- Hula Kahiko and 'Auana Performances with E Hula Mai Dance Academy
- Kapa Demonstrations with Micah Kamohoal'i
- 'Ukulele with Jason Poole
- Lei-making & Orchid Hair Pin Demonstrations, courtesy of Hawaiian Airlines

- Fashion & Design Weekend, July 28 & 29

Style takes center stage with the Hawaiian fashion and design. Drop in for kapa-making, witness traditional tattoo demonstrations, and get a glimpse into the evolution of fashion in Hawai'i and the cultural influences that inspire the contemporary designs of today.

Festivities include:

- The Art of Traditional Hawaiian Tattooing, a presentation and demonstration by master tattoo artist Keone Nunes

- Fashion Walk with Native Hawaiian Designer Manaola Yap
- Kapa Demonstrations with Micah Kamohoali'i
- Ali'i Gown Display, reproductions of Queen Kapi'olani's and Queen Lili'uokalani's gowns, commissioned by 'Iolani Palace in Honolulu

■ Music Weekend, August 18 & 19

Music fills the Garden with traditional and contemporary performances—'ukulele, slack key guitar, hula, and more, including:

- Dance Aloha performs hula throughout the day, while artisan demonstrations take place in the Leon Levy Visitor Center
- A Special Evening Performance at the Saturday, August 18 Aloha Night with Willie K, Led Ka'apana, Kamakakēhau Fernandez, and Kapono Na'ili'iili
Special ticket required for Aloha Nights
- A Sunday Afternoon All-Star Jam Session from 1–3 p.m. on the Conservatory Lawn with Willie K, Led Ka'apana, Kamakakēhau Fernandez, Kapono Na'ili'iili, and others

■ Closing Weekend, October 27 & 28

We'll bring back highlights of all of the special programming for one last chance for visitors to experience the exhibition.

Aloha Nights

Saturdays, June 2, 9, 16, 23, & 30, July 7 & 21, August 4 & 18, 6:30–10:30 p.m.

Visitors to Georgia O'Keeffe: Visions of Hawai'i will enjoy an after-hours viewing of the exhibition in the Enid A. Haupt Conservatory and the Art Gallery. These festive summer evenings, presented by Bank of America, come to life as live music sets the mood for traditional artisan demonstrations of kapa- and lei-making as well as block printing. Experience illuminated installations by contemporary Hawaiian-Chinese sculptor Mark Chai, and unwind with specialty cocktails and Hawaiian fare available for purchase from the STARR Events new Poke Truck.

For full schedule of performers, visit nybg.org.

Georgia O'Keeffe: A Creative Life

An Evening with Roxana Robinson and Linda M. Grasso

Wednesday, June 13; 6:30–7:30 p.m.

Ross Hall

Two O'Keeffe experts, Roxana Robinson (Georgia O'Keeffe: A Life) and Linda M. Grasso (Equal under the Sky: Georgia O'Keeffe and Twentieth-Century Feminism), discuss O'Keeffe's coming of age in modernist America and her identity as an independent artist and trailblazing feminist.

Members $25/Non-Members $29

O’Keeffe After Hours

Fridays & Saturdays, October 5, 6, 12, 13, 19, & 26; 6:30–10:30 p.m.

With cooler nights and the changing leaves comes a whole new season of Georgia O’Keeffe: Visions of Hawai’i. Visitors can see the exhibition during its final month with an evening viewing and warm up with a cup of Kona coffee, channel their botanical artists with sip and sketch drop-ins, and see the colorful flora of Hawai’i in the Conservatory. Outside, they will enjoy illuminated installations by contemporary Hawaiian-Chinese sculptor Mark Chai.
Special ticket required

Interactive Mobile Guide

A visually stunning Interactive Mobile Guide, which can be accessed via mobile device at nybg.org/mobile, will complement the exhibition by transporting users to both the current Hawaiian landscape and back in time to the Hawai’i that O’Keeffe visited in 1939. The experience unfolds through multiple 360-degree videos of the plants and locations O’Keeffe observed and depicted in her work paired with personal accounts found in O’Keeffe’s handwritten letters that she sent to her husband, famed photographer Alfred Stieglitz, while on her journey. Advanced location-aware technology will help users engage with content automatically and to navigate the Botanical Garden grounds. Vintage photo frames and filters allow participants to create their own digital souvenirs and share on social media. Through the guide, users may enter the official exhibition sweepstakes for a chance to win one of three trips to Hawai’i and visit the islands that inspired the artist. Round-trip airfare is provided by Hawaiian Airlines and rooms are courtesy of Hyatt Resorts in Hawai’i.

Hawai’i-Inspired Food

Hawai’i-inspired food will be available for purchase in the Hudson Garden Grill and at STARR Events’ new Poke Truck, which will feature four different types of poke (including a Veggie Bowl), the trendy dish of marinated raw fish served over rice with Asian seasonings.

Visit the Garden’s Web site, nybg.org, for more information and to purchase tickets.
