

May 2020 COVID-19 Update

NYBG Temporarily Closed

The New York Botanical Garden is temporarily closed to support New York City's effort to contain the spread of COVID-19. The safety of our staff, visitors, and community is our top priority.

Suspension of all in-person events, on-site programs and classes, and exhibitions, including the cancellation of KUSAMA, has been extended until further notice.

All volunteer, public-facing activities, and workshops of the NYC Compost Project Hosted by NYBG are also suspended until further notice.

Food Scrap Drop-offs

Due to current concerns over public gatherings, Food Scrap Drop-off sites are closed until further notice. Residents should not leave food scraps at any location.

Community Gardens

NYC Parks GreenThumb, Bronx Land Trust and New York Restoration Project gardens are closed to the general public and open to garden members only for absolutely necessary maintenance and season preparation activities. Workshops are cancelled, postponed, or offered online until further notice. For updates, visit <https://greenthumb.nycgovparks.org/> and <https://www.nyrp.org/covid19>

The NYC Compost Project works to rebuild NYC's soils by providing New Yorkers with the knowledge, skills, and opportunities they need to make and use compost locally. NYC Compost Project programs are implemented by DSNY-funded teams at seven host organizations, including The New York Botanical Garden. For more information on composting in the Bronx, call our helpline at 718.817.8543 or visit nybg.org/compost.
