ATTRACTING POLLINATOR'S WORKSHOP

Thursday, June 22 • 6–7:30 p.m.

New Roots Community Farm • 670 Grand Concourse

Learn about the importance of our local pollinators and how to create gardens that attract them. As part of the workshop, we will spend time identifying the native plants that host them at New Roots Community Farm. We will also observe and discuss design elements of the pollinator gardens and spend some time caring for the plants.

This workshop is presented in partnership with Bronx Green-Up/NYBG, Butterfly Project NYC, and Dina Garcia (New Roots Community Farm).

BRONX FOODWAYS ORAL HISTORIES PROJECT

The Bronx Foodways Oral Histories Project exists to preserve the food histories and life experiences of long-time community gardeners and urban farmers across the borough. It provides intimate first-hand portraits of the growers, volunteers, and activists—keeping their personal journeys alive for future generations, and underscoring the importance of neighborhood gardens as centers for food, heritage, community, and social justice.
